

ANTI-SHIPPING LAW IS SUSTAINED AND GUNTER REVERSED

Montgomery, Ala., June 17.—The Supreme Court today rendered a decision upholding the validity of the Bonner anti-liquor shipping law, thereby reversing Judge Gaston Gunter of Montgomery city court, in granting an injunction restraining the Southern Express company from refusing to accept for shipment from J. E. Whittle, of Pensacola, liquor in excess of the amount prescribed by the Bonner law.

The case grew out of the refusal of the Southern Express company at Pensacola to accept from Whittle six quarts of liquor for shipment to Fletcher Farmer at Ramer, Montgomery county.

Application was made to Judge Gunter for an injunction requiring the express company to accept the shipment, and the injunction was granted. Judge Gunter granted the injunction on the ground that it was a violation of the state and federal constitutions, in that it denied to persons certain inalienable rights granted under these constitutions such as life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and on further ground that it was an improper application of the state's police power, and moreover, was violative of the "commerce clause" of the federal constitution.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Justice McCrellan, held that the Bonner law was not violative of either federal or state constitution, and further held that if the state had the right to prevent the manufacture of liquors it had the right to prevent the shipment and delivery of intoxicating liquors.

ARGUMENT AGAINST WAR PREPARATIONS OFFERED BY BRYAN

Washington, June 17.—Asserting that the preparedness provokes rather than prevents war, and that the upheaval in Europe was a result of the pseudo philosophy that "might makes right," former Secretary Bryan today, in a second installment of his series of three statements on "The Causeless War," submits an argument against military preparation by the United States and praises the course of President Wilson in the international emergency.

"If any nation is without excuse for entering into a mad rivalry with the belligerent nations in preparation for war, it is the United States," says Mr. Bryan. "We are protected on either side by thousands of miles of ocean, and this protection is worth more to us than any number of battle-ships.

"We have an additional protection in the fact, known to every one, that we have the men with whom to form an army of defense, if we are ever attacked, and it is known also we would have the money, too—more money than we would have had if all the surplus earnings of the people had been invested in armament. We not only do not need additional preparation, but we are fortunate in not having it, since it seems impossible for a nation to have what is called preparedness without having along with it a disposition to use its preparedness on the slightest provocation."

"Fortunate in Unpreparedness." "The leading participants in the present war are the nations that were best prepared, and I

OTHER INQUIRIES EXPECTED AFTER CRAIG REPORTS

Montgomery, Ala., June 17.—J. H. Craig, State Auditor of Public Accounts, who for two months has been making an investigation of books in the State Department of Agriculture for the Merritt investigating committee will complete his work next week, according to an opinion expressed yesterday afternoon by Henry P. Merritt, chairman of the committee. Mr. Merritt indicated that the committee would have other inquiries after Mr. Craig completed this investigation.

The chairman also declared that the examiner's report will be released to the public the moment it is placed in the hands of the committee. On the findings reported to the committee by Examiner Craig Tuesday came the surrender of Captain John C. Cheney, former chief clerk of the department, at Evergreen Wednesday to answer a charge of embezzling $1,382 of State funds.

Chairman Merritt went to Birmingham Wednesday evening on a mission he refused to disclose. He indicated that he would not be away from Montgomery more than one day. Members of the committee who were in Montgomery Thursday were Senator J. R. McCain, Representative John W. Green and Representative George H. Smith.

"Happy for our nation that we have in the White House at this time a President who believes in setting the Old World a good example, instead of following the bad example which it sets in this matter. What an unspeakable misfortune it would have been, if, in such an hour as this, the nation had been under the leadership of a President inflamed by the false philosophy which has plunged Europe into the abyss of war."

In discussing the cause of the European conflict, Mr. Bryan, in a lengthy analysis, argues that it is no war of race, religion or families, and declares:

"If I have correctly analyzed the situation the war is the natural result of a false philosophy. The fundamental precept of this false philosophy is that 'might makes right.'"

Leading up to his argument against preparation for war by the United States, Mr. Bryan says:

No Oppose Preparation.

"We dare not trust the peace of the world to those who spend their time in getting ready for wars that should never come. Half the energy employed in preparing for war would effectually prevent war if used in propagating the principles which make for peace. Instead of preventing war, preparedness provokes war, because, it is impossible to coerce the people into bearing the burdens incident to continuous and increasing preparation without cultivating hatred

OTIS STOREY IS CONVICTED

Young Man Who Testified Against Girl Several Months Ago in Circuit Court, is Convicted of Perjury.

Otis Storey, one of the witnesses for the defense in the case of the State against Sterling Taylor, which was heard in Circuit Court a few months ago, was convicted of perjury by jury in that court yesterday afternoon.

Several months ago Sterling Taylor was convicted of seduction, and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. One of his witnesses was Otis Storey, who gave testimony derogatory to the character of Miss Edith Campbell, the girl involved. The verdict of the jury yesterday brands Storey's testimony against the girl as false.

Taylor, who was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary, married the girl after the trial. He is now in the county jail, pending an appeal.

There must be some one to fear; some other preparing nation that must be represented as plotting for war.

"How can preparedness prevent war if all prepare? Each step taken by one nation toward more complete preparedness excites the other nations to additional purchases and new levies until all have exhausted their productive industries and menaced their moral progress.

"The doctrine that preparedness will prevent war will not stand the test of logic and the conflagration in Europe shows that it fails when tested by ex-

WITNESS SWEARS OFFICERS STOPPED RESCUE WORK

London, June 17.—A sensation was caused today at the government inquiry into the destruction of the Cunard liner Lusitania by a German submarine when J. Baker, one of the survivors, swore that Staff Officer J. C. Anderson of the liner, stopped rescue work while the ship was sinking.

"Is that statement true?" "I swear it is true," replied Baker.

"From the bridge I heard Staff Captain Anderson order the seamen to stop lowering the lifeboats. Anderson shouted that there was no danger as the ship was not going to sink. There seemed to be a lack of competent seamen on board the Lusitania also."

Baker's testimony was corroborated by Mrs. Rossiter, another survivor.

According to Baker's story on the stand Staff Captain Anderson not only stopped the lowering of lifeboats but assisted women from the boats which they had entered to leave the sinking ship. Capt. W. T. Turner, of the Lusitania, was recalled to the stand and testified that it was ten minutes after the attack was made before he realized the ship was sinking.

Seaman O'Neil declared on the stand that one torpedo fired at the Lusitania missed the ship, passing a few feet astern.

An official communication from the American government showing how that the Cunard liner did not violate any of the laws of the United States when the Lusitania sailed from New York, was read by Sir Edward Carson, the attorney general, when the government inquiry into the sinking of that vessel by a German submarine was resumed today.

In its reply to the first American note the German government raised the contention that the Cunard line had violated the American laws by carrying neutral passengers upon a steamship whose cargo consisted of munitions of war.

Other sensational testimony of the inquiry was given by Chief Steward F. V. Jones, who testified that when the liner was attacked no life belts were available on the decks.

Realizing that the farmers of this section are raising more meat and to encourage such industry the L. H. Moore Ice Co., announce through the columns of The Eagle that this fall they will be in a position to take care of all the meat that the farmers wish in their cold storage.

The diversification campaign, and the advent of the boll weevil at the very boundary line of this county have had their effect upon the far sighted farmer and more stock will be raised this year than ever before.

In the point of equipment and size the L. H. London, June 17.—Turkish troops in the Dardanelles have been repulsed in their attempt to recapture the trenches lost by them to the British June 12, according to an official statement on the situation in the Dardanelles, made public here today.

The announcement follows:

"On the night of June 15 a party of the enemy, led by a German officer, made a gallant attack on the trenches occupied by one of the British brigades. A few of the enemy were killed on the parapet, but a majority of them fell before reaching our trenches. Fifty dead were counted, including the German leader and his Turkish subordinates.

"These trenches were captured by us on the night of June 12. After a strong attack the Turkish position were annihilated by our machine guns from right to left. The Dublin fusiliers attacked with the bayonet. When the trenches were occupied they were found to contain 200 dead Turks. Twelve prisoners were also taken. Our casualties were very slight."

FORCED TO SUFFER HUSBAND, HIS SAYS IN ASKING DIVORCE

Atlanta, Ga., June 16.—A suit for divorce was filed yesterday by Mrs. Pearl M. Cole, a photographer, against her husband, Arthur E. Credit testimony was claimed with the statement that under the circumstances the wife did not think she could support such a husband.

Mrs. Frances DeVane is suing for divorce against her husband, E. M. DeVane, and she failed to provide her own sufficient clothing while he had dressed himself very expensively.

On the ground of desertion Mrs. Mary E. Casson filed suit for divorce against her husband, William D. Casson. She says that they had had only six months of married life.

An Age of The

Spendthrift.

Commercial Appeal.

According to the statement of S. W. Strauss, president of the American Society of Thrift, the age which closed July 31, 1914, was the age of the spendthrift. It was an age of extravagance internationally, nationally and personally. The facts he offers in proof of this statement are convincing.

When we think of the social conditions in India, China and other oriental countries, and think of how we live, there is every reason to accept the declaration of Mr. Strauss as true. It has been said that fully one-fifth of the 300,000,000 people of India never know what it is, from birth until death, to have a full stomach. Similar conditions exist in China and Mexico. The abject poverty and destitution of these countries have been the conditions of millions of Russians for generations.

In the United States, according to President Strauss, $1,000,000,000 a year is spent for luxuries and indulgences which can not be described as sane, pleasure, but which cause positive physical harm.

This is not an age of thrift, but is the age of the spendthrift, declares Mr. Strauss.

A man is not known by what he saves, but by the display he makes in spending. The country spends yearly as much for tobacco as it does for life insurance premiums and half of the amount of life insurance premiums is spent for candy. Alcohol costs up two and a half times the money that is spent for life insurance.

During the last year the average American has been compelled to turn his attention to thrift. Conditions in Europe are such that Americans have been called upon to do more than spend for times in frivolity, pleasure and luxury.

Thrift is the management of one's affairs in such a manner that the value of one's possessions is being constantly increased.

Generally speaking, thrift is not born in us, but is a cultivated art. The child has no appreciation of the value of money except for what he can buy with it. Unless the child is taught the art of saving and is schooled to know the real value of money he will arrive at maturity with the same headless desire to spend all that he can lay his hands on and spend it foolishly.

We never look beyond tomorrow, if we are brought up in this way. This is one great reason why this is an age of spendthrifts.

Happy is the man who knows how and can save. He is prepared for the rainy day when it arrives. He is independent. He does not have to look to others for support.

The art of saving should be cultivated.

Armed Citizenship.

Indianapolis News.

The suggestion that the people of the United States form clubs and companies for rifle practice and familiarize themselves in the use of weapons in readiness for protection in case of war is only new in the form of the weapons in which we are asked to become skilled.

In an epistle to the sheriff of London, dated June 12, 1349, 566 years ago, Edward III sets forth how "the people of our realm, as well of good quality as mean, have commonly in their sports before these times exercised their skill of shooting arrows; whence it is well known that honor and profit have secured to our whole realm, and to us, by the help of God, no small assistance in our warlike acts. Now, however, the said skill being as it were, wholly laid aside, the King commands the sheriff to make public proclamations that "every one of the said city, strong in body, at leisure times on holidays, use in their recreations bows and arrows or pellets or bolts, and learn and exercise the art of shooting, forbidding all and singular on our behalf, that they do not after any manner apply themselves to the throwing of stones, wood or iron, handball, football, bandyball, gambuck or cockfighting, nor such like vain plays which have no profit in them."

Gambuck or gambuck was the ancient name for hockey or skink.

Considering the good that could be done along other lines there is lots of time and energy wasted by one religious denomination fighting another.

It has rained all around Dothan, and unless something is done to pay up the preachers' salary there is no telling just when we will get rain.

To Help the Isle
Of Man.

London Times.

Hall Ginn has addressed a letter to the press drawing attention to the growing destitution among inhabitants of the Isle of Man. He makes the suggestion that the government should intern well-to-do enemy aliens in the boarding houses of the island, where they should be made to pay for their board and lodging.

He says: "The only material source of Manx income is the visiting industry, and the war (coupled with a recent order of the admiralty, limiting the service of steamers, has killed it stone dead. There are three miles of boarding houses on the sea fronts of the three principal towns, capable of accommodating 20,000 persons, and they are literally empty. Many of their tenants are unable to pay their rents and taxes, and unless something can be done for them soon they may be unable to find food. Of the 20,000 enemy aliens who are now about to be interned, considerable numbers must be well-

DON'T WASH YOUR HAIR WITH SOAP

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Why should the British nations (unless international law requires it) pay for the maintenance of people who are able to maintain themselves? As a Manx man I appeal to the government to send enemy aliens of the well-to-do classes to the Isle of Man, with their wives and children and require them to pay reasonably for their support."

Better Than Calomel and You Don't Lose a Day's Work

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. Calomel is a nasty, dangerous poison. It makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

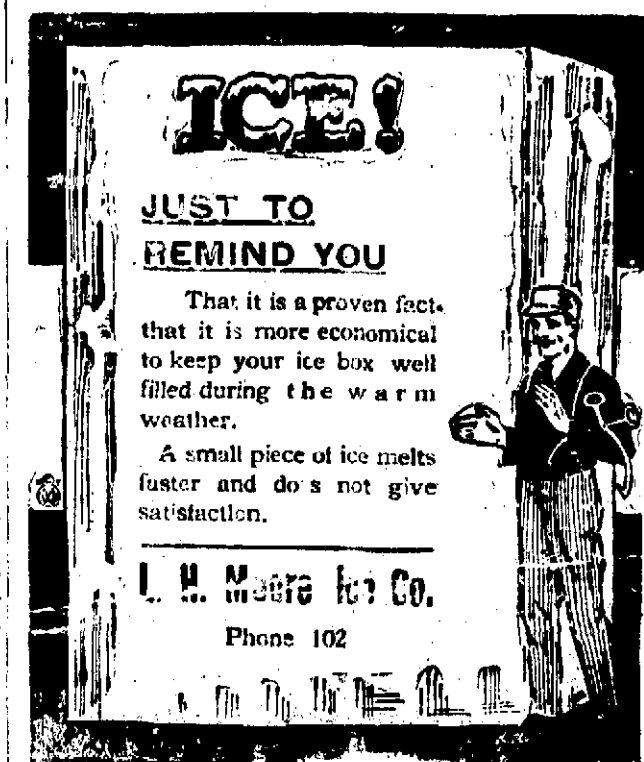

Calomel is a mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel cranks into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic under my personal medical back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tonic instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of Calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

Thomasville Team Here

Games With Thomasville
Weew all Dothan has at Baker Field Until July
10, Says Schedule.

The Thomasville baseball team play Dothan at Baker Field afternoon and tomorrow af-noon at 4 o'clock, and as these the last games Dothan will be at home until July 10, according to the schedule sent out President Dick Jamison, it is expected that a large number of will turn out to see these games.

Brunswick is still ahead in the
for the first half. If the lose one game next Dothan
in all the games through Tuesday, these two teams will be tied first place. It is not likely at Dothan will have a peep-in,
Brunswick plays all Georgia until the opening of the half, but still there is some doubt. Brunswick might get run-out for two games, and the team has a chance of playing every day and winning the balance of the games in the first half. If this comes true, then Dothan would be tied for first place.

There is a genuine regret here at Dothan will not have another check on the Pilots, for if she Brunswick would have a very poor chance indeed of winning the first half.

The last game with Gainesville yesterday, was won by Dothan to 2, the locals having an easy story over the visitors, who played hard ball but were outplayed. The visitors could do nothing with Hodge, the big boy pitching it all and pitching jam ball. He gave up only three runs.

ing him up in the mountains near your town. What I want to know is, Did it kill him or was he only partly et up, and is he from this place and all about the bare? I don't know but what he is a distant husband of mine. My first husband was of that name, and I supposed he was killed in the war, and the name of the man the bare et being the same, I thought it mite be him after all, and I ought to know if he wasn't killed either in the war or by the bare, for I have been married twice since,
and there ought to be divorce papers got out by him and me. He sings base and has a spread eagle tattooed on his front chest and a anker on his right arm, which you will know him by if the bare did not eat up the sides of it, he being him. If alive, don't tell him I am married to Joe White, for he never liked Joe. Maybe you'd better let on as if I am dead, that is if the bare did not eat him all up. If it did, I don't see as you need do anything, and you needn't take no trouble. Please answer back.

Also, was he married again, and did he leave any property with me laying claim to?"

MAKING ALCOHOL DISTASTE- FUL.

(Manchester Guardian.)

A remarkably interesting development in the drink question in Russia is reported by the publication of a document from the Russian government offering great prizes for processes that will make alcohol impossible as a drink and widen its possibilities in commerce and industry. Probably the first object is to find a use for the alcohol which is released by the vodka decree, but the conditions laid down for a prize winning process to make liquid alcohol distasteful are so stringent that it is obviously a commercial movement.

So far as one can gather, no successful effort has been made to treat alcohol with the addition of methyl, resulting in a disagreeable taste—to say the least—it is by no means impossible. It does not possess properties that make alcohol so nauseating as Russia would have it be, and it is frequently taken as a drink.
There are many patent medicines
for the cure of alcoholism, but I do not believe any of them consist of a treatment of alcohol itself. They either take the form of drugs administered separately as a medicine, or of tablets dissolved in tea or coffee.

There is a benevolent association in London under the chairmanship of Cecil M. Chapman, which works a patent treatment with considerable success. It entails a twenty-four days' "cure"

with entire abstinence from alcohol during that time, and it is claimed that it overcomes the craving for strong drink. The Russian idea, however, is quite a different thing, and its possibilities will be keenly watched by temperance reformers.

Not in Noah's Line.

The topic having turned to the subject of microbes, Congressman Edward E. Brown of Wisconsin recalled the strenuous

kick of a servant girl named No-rah, says the Philadelphia Telegraph.

Not long since Norah was about to industriously swing the broom around the parlor furniture, when she was summoned by her mistress.

"Before you sweep the parlor, Norah," said the mistress, as the girl entered the room, "I want to give you some advice about your broom."

"Yes, mum," was the wondering rejoinder of Norah. "Plats
the matter wid the broom?"

"It is this way, Norah," explained the mistress. "A very celebrated doctor says that brooms are full of microbes, so in the future you will have to give your broom an antiseptic bath."

"Shure, an' Oi will not!" was the emphatic declaration of No-rah. "Next thing it will be message treatments, an' thin holper-demic injections, an' Oi'm no trained nurse."

GOLD DUST

—its use is second nature in millions of homes

Gold Dust really works. Millions of women know how Gold Dust does the hard work of washing dishes, scrubbing floors, and washing woodwork—

But not all of these millions of women realize that Gold Dust is the only washing and cleaning powder needed in any home.

Gold Dust cleans mud, dirt, nickel, enameled ware, aluminum vessels, etc., without scratching or marring the polished surface.

Use it for washing bathtubs and bathroom fixtures, cleaning and brightening pots, pans and cooking utensils, cleaning and freshening linoleum and oilcloth, washing glassware—in short, use it to clean and brighten everything.

SORROW'S SHADOWS

Some days when I am dressed in shimmer stuff,
With yellow rows at my breast and hair;
When just the air and sunlight seems enough
To make the whole world delightfully rare;
When people love me and I them and all
My heart is like a hill brook's lifting call.

Then, if I pass her in her dim black dress,
I feel a sudden cluster of loneliness,
I stare down vistas of unsparkling years,
And there before myself, and close in black,
With wrinkled brows, thin hands and aching back.

A sorrow's shadow! Let me be a while!
Watch not my happy yellow row on; set
Nor watch upon my sudden cry and smile;
Why should I not forget—ah, half forget!
That sorrow's self will meet me some strange day
And take my hand, nor let me dance away!

Stradivarius Violin Sells for $19,500; Highest Yet—

London.—The highest price in history for a Stradivarius violin at auction was paid in London during the recent Red Cross sale at Christie's.

An ancient instrument owned by Lord Newlands and bearing the date of 1702 was knocked down for $19,500.

Lady Wernher first secured the violin for $12,500 and requested that it be resold for the benefit of the Red Cross fund. The second sale realized $7,000.

The highest private sale price for a Stradivarius on record was paid by Kubelik, when he handed over $50,000 for his famous "Haddock" instrument.

Women in the News—

New York, June 16.—For the first time, Columbia university has this year conferred the degree of doctor of laws on a woman. She is Louisa Lee Schuyler, founder of the State Charities Aid association and originator of the first American training school for nurses. She is a great granddaughter of General Philip Schuyler of the Continental army in the revolution, and also a great granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton.

Atlanta, Ga., June 16.—Southerners are planning to erect a monument to the old Southern "Mammy" the tender old negress whose devotion to families in the South is so traditional. At a meeting of the University club, it was recently proposed to memorialize the mammy by a typical figure, in Piedmont park in this city. Complete plans will soon be made and the idea will be adopted by other Southern centers.

New York, June 16.—Miss Bina West, head of the fraternal order of the Woman's Benefit association, has refused a salary of $10,000 a year. She did accept three quarters of that sum, but declined the balance, stating that her greatest pleasure was in working for her fellow women.

Weymouth, Mass., June 16.—Miss Theodora Keith, associate member and bugler of Reynolds Post, G. A. R., is the only woman on the roll of the Grand Army of the Republic. She is only 16, and is the official bugler of the post. She attends all the campfires and entertainments and funerals of the post. Although her age and sex prevent her from full membership, the laws of the organization were such as to allow her name on the roll.

Baltimore, June 16.—One of the results of the recent national conference of charities and corrections held here was the formation of an organization of police-women. Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, of Los Angeles, was chosen president, Miss Mary S. Harvey of Baltimore, vice president, Mrs. Georgiana Sherrot of Minneapolis, secretary, Miss Annie McCully, of Dayton, treasurer. The object of the new society is to attract to the work women of the highest type. They will spread

The Ravages of the Tsetse, Africa's Most Dreaded Pest

A traveler had talked interestingly to a party of friends relative to the Tsetse fly, commonly found in the interior of Africa. In conclusion he was saying "and invariably their bite results in 'sleeping sickness,' a malady from which no unfortunate has ever recovered."

"But," asked one of his listeners, "do these people use no precaution or have they no method of preventing the attack of these pests?"

Happily, they have, and it is very seldom that a member of a tribe, other than the most negligent, falls a victim of the Tsetse. Continuing, the entertainer told of how during a specified season the natives gathered and preserved a certain drug which, after being prepared, ward off the dangers that always befall the unscrupulous.

"And 'tis odd," he continued, "the reliance these black men place in their preparation, as they often go for a week at a time without applying a fresh supply to their bodies."

This narrative, though related several years ago, has lived in the mind of one man and with "The story of the Tsetse" as a nucleus, this man is now manufacturing the most wonderful remedy for keeping mosquitoes off that has ever been reproduced and he named it "Sweet Dreams."

"Sweet Dreams" is the only preparation in the world containing this African product which so effectually rid those black men of the dreaded Tsetse, and of which the traveler had told so lightly.

Conveniently put up in large screw cap bottles, Sweet Dreams is being sold for 15c in drug stores everywhere, every day. All druggists are authorized to refund your money if "Sweet Dreams" is found not to be entirely satisfactory.

"No stained bed linen, no disagreeable odor and it lasts all night. So specify Sweet Dreams, remembering the 'Story of the Tsetse!'"

Now Is The Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

WHEN THE WAR BEGAN

(From Scribner's Magazine.)

That evening, in a restaurant of the Rue Royale, we sat at a table in one of the open windows, abreast with the street, and saw the strange new crowds stream by, writes Edith Wharton. In an instant we were being shown what mobilization was—a huge break in the normal flow of traffic, like the sudden rupture of a dyke. The street was flooded by the torrent of people sweeping past us to the various railway stations. All were on foot, and carrying their luggage: for since dawn every cab and taxi and motor-omnibus had disappeared. The war office had thrown out its dragnet and caught them all in. The crowd that passed our window was chiefly composed of conscripts, the mobilisables of the first day, who were on the way to the station accompanied by their families and friends; but among them were little clusters of bewildered tourists, laboring along with bags and bundles and watching their luggage pushed before them on hand carts—puzzled inarticulate waifs caught in the cross-tides racing to a mobilization.

In the restaurant, the befogged and red coated band poured out patriotic music, and the intervals between the courses that so few waiters were left to serve were broken by the ever-recurring obligation to stand up for God Save the King, to stand up for the Russian National Anthem, to stand up again for the Marseillaise. "Et dire que ce sont des hommes qui jurent tout cela!" a humorist remarked from the pavement.

As the evening wore on the crowd about our window thickened, the listeners suitable began to join in the war songs. "Allons, debout!"—and the loyal road begins again. "La chanson du départ!" is a frequent demand; and the chorus of spectators chimes in roundly. A sort of quiet humor was the note of the street. Down the Rue Royale, toward the Madeleine, the bands of other restaurants were attracting other throngs, and martial refrains were strong along the Boulevard like its garlands of arc lights. It was a night of blinding and exclamations, not boisterous, but gallant and determined. It was Paris badlanded at its best.

"Do you mean to tell me that The Star would intentionally omit news?"

"Yes, sir. We act as censor for the home and the community. We assume all responsibility for failure to print what you call news."

The idea that a rural newspaper should print everything is rigidly adhered to in almost every newspaper office—but not in this one.

The Star holds no malice toward any human being. We have no grudges to pay. The weakness of humanity excites our pity. We have no desire to expose these weaknesses, except as a matter of necessity, or to point a moral.

The Star reserves the right to suppress news that serves no public good. And the editor is sole judge of "public good."

We have no desire to cause the innocent to suffer.

We have our own consent to continue this policy, regardless of what other newspapers may do.—Andalusia Star.

RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION

WATSON, ALA., MAN WINS RELIEF WITH ONE DOSE

Will Glover, of Watson, Ala., suffered for a long time from the most painful of stomach troubles. He could not eat—and if he did, his irritated stomach would not let him sleep.

He tried just one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy.

That one dose did wonders. Read what Mr. Glover has written about his experience:

"I had been suffering for a long while and tried all kinds of medicine, with only temporary relief. A friend advised me to try your wonderful stomach remedy. Before you sent me the medicine I could not sleep and was afraid to eat. When I would eat I would have heaviness in my chest, and my stomach would swell and I would have a smothering feeling, a headache and pains in my back. But since taking one dose of your remedy I can eat anything I want and sleep good. I feel that I will not need any more of your treatment, as the one bottle worked wonderful results."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This old time skin healer is used just like any cold cream.

Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common hold-sulphur made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of hold-sulphur and apply lightly the irritated parts the same way you would any cold cream.

For many years common hold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the practice of dermatology and cutaneous affections by reason of its parasitic-destrorying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always effecting a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable.
